

Lancashire Universal 2 Year Review Integrated Pathway

The Early Years Setting Two-Year-Old Progress Check and the Health Visitors Two and a Half Year Old Health and Development Check

The Health Visitors Two-and-a-Half-Year-Old Health and Development Check

Health Visitor gains consent to share from parents at the 9-12 month review and places this in the red book.

If consent to share is declined by parent/carer, record this electronically in the Child Health Record.
Follow Standard Operating Procedure if any concerns are identified.

The Early Education Setting Two-Year-Old Progress Check

Setting gains consent to share from parent/carer and places this in the Red Book, keeping a copy for the setting records.

If consent to share is declined by parent/carer:

- Consider if a referral to children's social care is required.
- Consider how the settings own practitioners can meet the needs of the child within the setting. Seek professional advice if training and guidance is needed to do this.

Health visiting team representative to liaise with Early Education Setting each term providing general support, advice and guidance facilitating professional dialogue together.

Undertake two-and-a-half-year-old health and development check and place outcome in the Red Book.

Consider if it is appropriate to hold this check within a setting alongside other professionals if the child has identified risk factors, e.g. CIN and CP plans or concerns raised by the early education setting.

Contact the Early Education setting to share any concerns identified.

Undertake two-year-old progress check, as close to age two as possible, and Well comm screening (nurseries) and place a copy of the Progress Check into the Red Book.

Contact the Health Visiting team with any developmental concerns ahead of their two-and-a-half-year-old health and development check.

Ensure a two-year-old progress check is undertaken for any child who starts at your setting before the age of three and share any concerns with Health Visitors.

Consider how to influence the home learning environment and continue liaising with parents, sharing top tips and website links with parents.
