

Permission to Access the Route from the Landowner

The majority of the Order route is a public footpath, this section of the route can therefore be accessed on foot for purposes of inspection.

The section between points A and B on the order plan is not currently recorded as a public footpath, the land crossed at this point is unregistered but is believed to lie in the ownership of Marsh Farm. The owner of Marsh Farm has provided permission in the attached email but wishes to be present at the time of inspection.

Good afternoon Simon

I am replying to your letter sent on 24 May 24 regarding proposed bridleway Much Hoole in relation to giving permission for the government inspector to access land which we own. I would grant permission but would like to be present at the time of the inspection.

Yours sincerely

Robin Cowgill
